

I think since I pay for phone service I have the right to determine what calls I want and what calls I don't want. I have never bought anything from a telemarketer nor will I. All they do is disrupt important and valuable family time. Please tell the bankers no. Also let them know that I currently have banking accounts at 3 of these banks and I've noticed the names of the ones that aren't members - maybe its time to change banks. Since they don't respect my values - they must not respect my business either.

Thanks
